Conference in Paris Almost "Blows Up" Charge Russia Blocks Peace Parley

Rule Criticized Admits Nazis May Control Some of Reich

LONDON, May 10.—(BUP)—John B. Hynd, chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster, admitted in the House of Commons today that "it is possible there are areas in Germany in which Nazis are in control."

Hynd was replying to criticism by house members of the administration of the British occupation zone in Germany.

He said that the commander-in-chief of the British forces, Bernard Montgomery, could not be expected to place his finger on every single Nazi any more than any home secretary could be expected to know the whereabouts of every criminal.

He asked members to remember when they criticized the four-power rule of Germany that "we are only one quarter of it."

William Sheppard, Conservative, charged that 400,000 displaced persons were roaming about the British zone, "robbing other people and committing crimes."

Michael Foot, Labor, attacked the Potsdam agreement, claiming that it was unworkable and adding that the Versailles treaty were moonshine then the economic principles of Potsdam were madness on a cosmic scale.

The Duchy of Lancaster is charged with responsibility for the civilian administration of the British zone in Germany.

PARIS, May 10.—(BUP)—The Big Four foreign ministers virtually agreed today to hand over Italy's former colonies to a United Nations trusteeship administered by Italy.

By JOSEPH W. GRIGG
Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin
PARIS, May 10.—(BUP)—Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin today accused Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov of trying to block the holding of a peace conference.

BEVIN SAID that Molotov's insistence upon Big Four agreement on all fundamentals of the peace treaties before submitting them to a 21-nation peace conference constituted, in effect, a veto over the treaties.

The Bevin-Molotov exchange left the Big Four ministers at deadlock as ever over the peace conference and in a desperate effort to get to some kind of agreement the ministers scheduled an informal meeting for later today to think of every criminal.

"WE MIGHT AS WELL face it—whether any one of us can block the holding of a peace conference," Bevin told the council in a voice described as harsh and flat.

The ministers tensed. All four rose, angrily adjourning the conference.

Redistribution
Manitoba, Sask.
May Lose Seats

By VICTOR MACKIE
Edmonton Bulletin
OTTAWA, May 10.—Manitoba and Saskatchewan each stand to lose one member only in the house of commons under a new plan for redistribution which is under consideration and which is under study will be introduced at this session.

THE NEW redistribution system scheduled for the summer of 1946 would be based on the basis of representation by population. If approved that plan would necessitate an amendment to the British North America Act.

It was learned from a source close to the government that if that plan is approved and the necessary amendment to the BNA act passed, that would be as far as the redistribution business would go at this session. The actual redistribution would then be carried out at the next session on the new plan.

REPRESENTATION by population would mean 255 members in the house, instead of 245 members as there are in parliament today.

Pittill's auto was proceeding north on 96 street at the time of the accident, police said. It was struck on the right side by Fetherston's auto coming from the east on 108A avenue, and was pushed right across the road to the west curb.

For Next Three or Four Years Canada Hopes to Retain Beef Market in Britain

OTTAWA, May 10.—(CP)—Agriculture Minister Gardiner told the Commons yesterday the government is considering remaining in the British beef cattle market for the next three or four years instead of returning to the traditional United States market.

MR. GARDINER indicated the United Kingdom might be willing to sign contracts to take all the beef Canada can supply over the next three or four years. Canada now ranked second in the British market.

He said he was not advocating a long-term policy but said he felt that if Britain could offer as good a price as the United States for the beef Canada can supply over the next three or four years, Canada would suggest that Canada continue to sell to Britain.

J. A. Ross (P.C.-Sask.), had asked the minister to consider re-opening the United States market to Canada.

U.S. Crop Estimate

400,000 Miners in States to Resume Work Monday

WASHINGTON, May 10.—(AP)—John L. Lewis today called for a 12-day truce in the soft coal strike, beginning Monday. Mr. Lewis wired every local union president urging him to arrange for the 400,000 striking United Mine Workers to get back on the job as soon as the local mine management agreed to make retroactive during the truce any pay increase later negotiated.

"THIS ACTION is the contribution of America to our nation's economy," Mr. Lewis telegraphed the locals, "which is being imperilled by the stupidity and selfish greed of the coal operators and associated financial interests and by demagogues who have tried to lash the public mind into a state of hysteria rather than grant justice and fair treatment to the men who mine the nation's coal."

Mr. Lewis acted less than an hour after President Truman invited the mine leader and a representative of the operators to a White House conference.

The action was taken as the 40-day strike hit the United States hardest, curtailing the supply of coal for the nation's industry and passenger travel, ending all but prior.

Simonds Testifies Lister's Offences Termed "Trifling"

By WILLIAM BOSS
AMSTERDAM, May 10.—(CP)—Lt.-Gen. Guy Simonds of Kingston, Ont., testified today before a Canadian army court martial trying Brig. J. F. A. Lister of Quebec City in the Netherlands, said he considered the regulation of Amsterdam, premises by Brig. Lister "a trifling offence."

GEN. SIMONDS, former commanding officer of the Canadian Army in the Netherlands, was told by Brig. Lister, who is charged with misuse of the requisitioning of the city of Amsterdam, proposed doing about the requisitioning incident was to append a memo to Brig. Lister's personal file.

Called as a prosecution witness, Gen. Simonds was in the witness box for an hour and 30 minutes. When he stepped down, the defence counsel, Lt.-Col. C. H. Gage, called a third Canadian army commander of the 1st Canadian Army in Europe, as the officer whose slacking capacity of 1,500 tons daily would be built near Barnwell, 30 miles east of here, to serve best growers of the Taber-Barnwell-Coadale areas, it was announced today.

The plant, to be built by Canadian Sugar Factories, Ltd., is expected to be ready to handle the 1948 crop of beets. However, difficulties in obtaining machinery is expected to delay completion of construction for about two years.

Truman's Settlement Plan
DETROIT, May 10.—(AP)—The Detroit News said today in a copyrighted story from its Washington correspondent that President Truman has proposed a coal strike settlement on the basis of an 18½-cent hourly wage increase and an operator-financed "health and welfare fund."

THE NEWSPAPER SAID it had learned that it was part of the Truman plan that payments to the fund by the operators will be regarded by the office price administration as a legitimate cost of the business and in considering applications for a price increase in coal. The full weight of White House influence will be thrown behind this formula, The News added.

THE NEWSPAPER SAID IT had learned the health and welfare fund would be financed by the operators on a percentage-of-pay-rolls basis and would be managed by a board of trustees consisting of representatives of labor, management and the public.

Doenitz Claims: Athens Sinking "Honest" Mistake
Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin
NUERNBERG, May 10.—(BUP)—Grand Admiral Karl Doenitz testified today that the U-boat sinking of the British liner Athenia on the first day of the Anglo-German war was an "honest mistake."

THE ATHENIA was mistaken by his sea raiders for an auxiliary cruiser, Doenitz said. He said, "More than 100 lives were lost. The Nazis seized the opportunity to sink the ship. I am sure that the British sank their own steamer in a bid for an anti-Nazi swing by the United States."

VC Winner Lauds

The Edmontons were "The finest" Regiment of all, Maj. Mahony de-murred mildly with:

"I wouldn't go quite that far. I have my own idea about which was the best regiment but might be considered a prejudiced party if I named the unit I have in mind."

Maj. Mahony, a former newspaper circulation man in Vancouver, was the first of two New Westminster men to win the Victoria Cross.

Cpl. "Smoky" Joe Smith, now selling insurance in Vancouver, was the other winner of the VC from New Westminster, although he was serving with the Seaforth Highlanders of Vancouver at the time.

Maj. Mahony said that in a sense he too is selling insurance by remaining in the army, in preparation to defend Canada should the necessity arise.

He is 34 years old.

GEN. WORTHINGTON has also returned to the command headquarters here after a visit to Maj. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell, commanding the Sixth Defence Command of the U.S. Army with headquarters in San Francisco.

Col. Joseph W. Stilwell, Jr., son of the famed China-Burma campaigner, arrived here Thursday to join Gen. Worthington's staff as liaison officer.

Maj. Mahony has completed a staff college course since returning from overseas and was until recently in command of the army discharge depot at Little Mountain, B.C.

ference, and started to walk out. Then, witnesses said, they broke into small talk—anything to stall and let tempers cool, realizing that a walkout on such a note meant the failure of the meeting.

Finally they agreed to sit again, and to make one more effort to find common ground.

AGAINST ALL THE odds in the meeting, Molotov argued that the ministers must give the peace conference complete drafts of the peace treaties.

The ministers all but had their hands on the doorknobs to call it quits when they reconvened.

It began when James F. Byrnes, trying to get a compromise, said the ministers must give the peace conference complete drafts of the peace treaties.

For Higher Wages, Shorter Hours

Labor Unions in Dominion
Edge Toward Strike Dates

By JACK WILLIAMS

OTTAWA, May 10.—(CP)—A group of major Canadian labor unions, with an eye cocked at the continuing strike of American soft coal miners, are edging toward deadlines in their demands for higher wages and shorter hours.

FIRST DEADLINE is that of May 15, set by the International Woodworkers of America (CIO) for a walkout of 37,000 men in the British Columbia lumber industry. Coal shortages resulting in the United States mine stoppage have no effect on that situation but possibility is seen that it may affect other threatening labor disputes.

The United Rubber Workers (CIO) have set May 27 as a strike date for about 10,000 workers in 19 Ontario rubber plants. Reports from various industrial centres indicate that if the coal strike is not settled by that date there may be an almost complete shutdown of Canadian industry and as a result strike action might be forestalled.

THE SAME THING applies to lake shipping where the Canadian Seamen's Union (TLC) has set a final date of June 7 for men to stop work on lake and coastal ships unless demands are met. Already a number of lake ships have tied up because of short coal supplies.

One of the largest unions involved in the connecting wage hours drive is the United Steelworkers of America (CIO). Two of the largest Canadian basic steel mills—the Steel Co. of Canada at Hamilton and Algoma Steel Corp. at Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., face the possibility of shutdowns from coal shortages. The third plant—Dominion Steel and Coal Corp. at Sydney, N.S.—is in a more favorable position with a supply of Nova Scotia coal.

IN GENERAL, the unions are demanding, with the exception of the seamen, a 40-hour week with increases in hourly rates which would leave them the same amount they now receive for a longer work week. The seamen seek reduction of an 84-hour week to 56 hours.

Refuse to Allow Debate on Parley

OTTAWA, May 10.—(CP)—M. J. Caldwell, CCF leader, moved yesterday that the commonsense adjourn to discuss the domestic situation in the light of the failure of the Dominion-provincial conference last week. But Speaker Gaspard Fautoux ruled the motion out of order. Mr. Caldwell said Prime Minister Mackenzie King was to leave for empire talks in London within a few days. He felt Mr. King should make a statement on the Dominion-provincial conference, because of the urgency of agreement, at least with the seven provinces with whom agreement appeared possible.

Mr. Fautoux said he could see no urgency in the question.

MR. COLDWELL SAID Mr. King should at least make a statement on the conference and what course of action would be followed and allow a discussion on his statement.

Mr. King replied the conference had adjourned "fine die" and he felt any statement at this time would not be appropriate. The conference had adjourned on the understanding that the preparation of the budget would go ahead, taking full cognizance of what had occurred at the conference. Finance Minister Hays would make an announcement when the course of action was decided.

MR. KING SAID he did not wish to give a direct reply to Mr. Caldwell on whether steps were being taken to have agreements signed with all provinces, except Ontario and Quebec.

As Victory Over Germany Celebrated
People of Russia Are Warned
Nightmare of New War Looms

MOSCOW, May 10.—(AP)—The official newspapers Ivestia and Pravda yesterday warned Russians celebrating anniversary of victory over Germany that "the menacing nightmare of new war" had been set in motion by the administration of plans of international reactionaries.

Moscow's newspapers devoted their front pages almost entirely to commemorating the end of the war with Germany, and yesterday was celebrated throughout the Soviet Union as a major holiday.

An editorial in Ivestia, government organ, appearing beside a large picture of Generalissimo Stalin, declared:

"Peoples of the world know from experience that the Soviet Union is the main obstacle in the way of the reactionaries, which is rearing up plans for a new war."

"That is why freedom-loving peoples see in the Soviet Union the strongest of their own security. They rely with confidence not only on the might but on the just character of the abiding principle and unchanging policy of the Soviet Union—the policy of equality and friendship between peoples."

Pravda, official newspaper of the Communist Party, also warned about reactionaries and the danger of a new war. The Red army, it said, is continuing its vigilance.

Butter Prices

cheese were similar if one set a value on the skim milk the farmer obtained in the separation of milk used for butter.

During the discussions, Mr. Gardiner said:

CANADA CANNOT expect to compete with Australia and New Zealand for the British butter market because farmers in those two countries can leave their cattle on the land all year.

The government is considering remaining in the British beef cattle market for the next three or four years instead of returning to the traditional United States market.

Reports the government had reduced subsidies on milk products May 1 were not correct.

PATRICK ASHBY (S.C. Edmonton) said the department of fixing farm prices and said it was a "damnable shame" that the boys and girls on farms had to work 16 hours a day for "bed and board."

F. M. Towley-Smith (C.P. North Battleford) said he believed the estimates, calling for expenditure of $12,692,733 for ordinary purposes, were too low. This was an increase of $1,613,444 over last year's estimate. Expenditures for special purposes were estimated at $5,725,900, against $3,126,600.

He said he was glad to see that the salaries of agricultural officers were being increased. This would encourage them to stay on the job and continue their good work for the farmer.

U.S. War Casualties
Total 295,867 Dead
WASHINGTON, May 10.—(AP)—United States armed forces count today that about 2,500 prisoners are being used on farm jobs, including sugar beet production. The plan is a continuation of a policy in effect last year and the number of prisoners being used is slightly more than in 1943.

Casualties in the Canadian armed forces totalled 102,354, including 37,964 dead at the end of hostilities.

Flag Committee
Continues Study

OTTAWA, May 10.—(CP)—The parliamentary flag committee, after a desultory two-hour session yesterday, decided to continue the process of elimination in selecting a design for a national flag. Tuesday has been set as the deadline and designs—among the remaining 16 before the committee—will do not get votes that were scrapped. Originally there were 2,500 designs submitted. Each of the 37 members has one vote.

TABLED MOTIONS found supporters for these three designs today:

1. A red ensign with a golden maple leaf in the fly in place of the traditional coat of arms. There are more than 25 versions of this design but R. W. Gladstone (L. Wellington South), its chief supporter, said yesterday he especially liked the submission of Donald Baird of Truro.

2. A flag composed of red and white triangles bearing a green maple leaf in the center of the diagonal line separating the two colors—a submission of La Ligue Du Drapeau National Quebec.

3. A white ensign with a red maple leaf in a red circle in the fly and a smaller four-pointed star—a submission of J. W. Leroy of Summerside, P.E.I.

All Ireland Is Tense As Pair Near Death

DUBLIN, May 10.—(CP)—All Ireland, North and South, was tense last night as John McCaughy and David Fleming, former members of the illegal Irish Republican Army, now on hunger strikes in prison, were reported near death.

BOTH WERE REPORTED emaciated almost beyond recognition and physicians said McCaughy may not live until Friday. Fleming has written a farewell letter to his mother and has made arrangements for his funeral.

McCaughy, sentenced to death in 1941 for the kidnapping and torture of Stephen Hayes, Dublin member of the IRA, suspected by the British of being a government spy, is serving a life sentence at Mayborough prison near Cork.

He died after his hunger strike 21 days ago.

FLEMING IS SERVING a 12-year sentence in Belfast, Northern Ireland, for the attempted murder of a police constable.

Demonstrations last night continued to take place in Dublin as the Eire government officially denied reports that nearly 400 workers yesterday attempted to attack President Sean T. O'Kelly in Phoenix Park, Dublin.

Dog Saves Life
Of Small Child,
Then Gets Help

NEWCASTLE, N.H., May 10.—(AP)—Not understanding dog language well, Neils Earl didn't know it was a matter of life and death his year-old cousin, Bruce, was trying to tell him about yesterday.

Earl, busy as a landscape gardener, felt Bruce's tug at his trousers. The pup was strangely persistent and Earl at last followed Bruce across the street to a goldfish pond.

Beside the pond lay three-year-old Barbara Anne James, unconscious and bleeding from a cut on the head, her clothing drenched with water.

Earl acted quickly. Artificial respiration was applied. Barbara revived. Her injury was treated. She's going to be all right.

Earl said Bruce evidently saw Barbara tumble into the water, striking her head as she fell. After dragging her out the dog went for help.

Chemical Industry
Urged For Alberta

CALGARY, May 10.—(CP)—C. E. MacDonald, executive officer of the International Nickel Company of Canada, Ltd., said here yesterday that the development of a large chemical industry based on the province's unlimited coal resources, the complete destruction of the huge I. C. Farben industry in western Germany left a big gap in world commerce for that kind of enterprise, and Alberta seemed ideally suited to fill the gap, he said.

DYES, PLASTICS, fuels, drugs and many other chemical products could be processed from coal, said Mr. MacDonald. The main thing to keep in mind was shipping the output in as nearly a finished state as possible, thereby cutting down on freight bills.

Do We Want Protection?

Black-marketing, the Prices Board points out in a statement, is not back lane business, nor transactions carried out by professional crooks in dingy basements. It may include such operations, usually does, but it includes also the over-paying of ceiling prices in reputable places of business, and the buying of rationed goods without surrendering coupons.

The otherwise law-abiding citizen engages in black-marketing, and helps to make it common, when he demands a price of more than the ceiling price, or when he offers to over-pay or ask to buy without coupons, the merchant would be freed from pressure to break the law. If he flatly refused to do either, black-marketing would be restricted to those who care nothing about maintaining respect for law.

And maintaining respect for law is not the only thing at stake. Holding down the cost of living is also involved, is in fact the object at which control measures are aimed. "Preventing inflation" is only another term for preventing the cost of living going upward.

Edmonton people know from wartime experience how effectively buyers can bid up the prices of houses. Prices of other things can be forced upward in the same way. Ceilings have been established to prevent this happening. Obviously it cannot be prevented if people in large numbers disregard the ceilings and confront merchants with the choice of breaking the law or losing customers.

Price control and rationing were adopted to protect the consuming public, but they can only do that if and so far as the public want to be protected.

The Blockaders

Squirm, and pretend as they may, Premier Drew of Ontario and Premier Duplessis of Quebec are the men who broke up the Dominion-province conference. They did so by obstinately refusing to give the power to tax estates in their provinces which are built up by draining wealth from all parts of Canada into the great financial and business centres of Toronto and Montreal.

The two provincial premiers greedily demand that succession duties levied on these estates shall pour the proceeds into their provincial coffers. Because this grab-all arrangement has existed for so long, they might as well demand it in future. That one case where Canadian producers have more orders than they can fill.

Neither does it seem to concern these gentlemen that the Government of Canada will need in future about twice as much revenue as it has at present. In the last full year before the war began the Dominion revenue for all purposes was $516,000,000. For the last fiscal year the non-war expenditures alone called for $1,024,000,000. While the cost of civil government has declined substantially, there has to be added the cost of maintaining the permanent military forces which are required to fulfil our obligations to the United Nations. The outlook for national budgets much less than twice that of 1938-9 is not bright.

Mr. Duplessis could be understood as not caring whether or not the Dominion can secure enough revenue to meet its obligations and to establish some sort of equality of public service across Canada. But Mr. Drew poses as Canada's No. 1 patriot. He is travelling in strange company when he joins Mr. Duplessis to say the Dominion cannot have revenue which it desperately needs, which is collected from wealth produced in all parts of Canada, but which the two major provinces have grabbed for themselves in years gone by.

A Tall Order

A U.S. Senator, recently rendering a report to that august chamber, suggested that American representatives abroad should be taught all major world languages so that they will know "what is going on" at international conferences.

It makes one wonder whether the honorable gentleman realizes what is involved in learning "all major world languages" used at an international conference. But Mr. Drew, since conferees use the jargon of diplomacy, much of which is almost unintelligible even to those who know the language used is native.

The languages of the Big Five would, of course, be imperative; so would, doubtless, Russian, French and Chinese. The Latin American nations are too influential and their population too numerous to be ignored, so add Spanish and Portuguese.

Iran and Poland may not be great powers but they are very real ones and are entitled to be not only heard but understood. So put down Persian and Polish.

So far the list comes to eight. But no list of major world languages would be complete that did not include Dutch, any one of the Scandinavian group, and Hindustani—the most widely spoken of them all. Merely that the people who speak German, Italian and Japanese lost the war does not exclude their languages from the category. That makes fourteen languages which the senator would make obligatory. But there are powers not yet prominent on the international scene who have latent problems on which they may sooner or later want to be heard. And it would be grossly unfair if all the delegates knew about these grievances should be what they read in the papers.

So after completely mastering fourteen languages the delegates to international conferences would still be well advised to spend their evenings with their Brush-Up series on Egyptian Arabic, modern Greek, Burmese and whatever others their spare time permitted.

Perhaps if all delegates, of whatsoever nationality, learn one language, and learn it well, this will meet the case adequately and much more simply.

They Shouldn't Shirk

The exclusionist Arab leaders in Palestine are stirring up their people to active hostility toward Britain and the United States, because the joint commission recommended that 100,000 Jews should be allowed to migrate from Europe to that country. They are also, they announce, calling on Russia to sponsor their cause, and are bringing back the Grand Mufti who fled to Switzerland when his Nazi collusion made flight necessary.

The aim of these leaders, long since proclaimed, is to have together the Arab states of Syria, Lebanon, Iraq, Iran, Arabia and Egypt, for the specific purpose of preventing Jewish immigration into Palestine on any large scale. Together these nations comprise about 20,000,000 people. They enclose the Suez canal and the Red Sea, a link in Britain's "lifeline" to the Far East, and also one of the great traffic routes of the world. If they could secure Russian backing, the exclusionists are evidently quite willing to launch the "holy war" they are talking about.

The sooner the Security Council takes over the Palestine "problem", the better. It was saddled upon Britain by a League of Nations mandate. But it is no longer a question of how the United States should have to deal. The issues are of concern to every great power in the world, excepting China. These should assume common responsibility for preserving order and for working out a solution.

Dr. Alan Nunn May was sentenced at London to ten years in prison for having disclosed atomic energy secrets to unknown persons. Unlike Mrs. Wolkin, more lightly sentenced in the same court, there was no question of Dr. May not understanding the full gravity of his offence. That may account for the heavier punishment imposed upon him.

Hon. J. G. Gardiner corrected the common impression that butter is scarce because farmers have stopped milking cows. They are, he says, milking more cows now than they ever did before. The trouble is that three years butter production has averaged 40,000,000 pounds more than it did in previous years. The trouble is not that production slowed down, but that it has not speeded up as fast as the demand grew. This is one case where Canadian producers have more orders than they can fill.

U.S. Trembling on Brink of World Politics—

Bynes' Proposed 25-Year Military Alliance for Germany's Restraint Is Seen as Second Step Following American Entry Into United Nations and Wins Widespread Approval of Press and Public

WASHINGTON, — The Byrnes proposal for a 25-year or more military alliance among the big four for the restraint of Germany is described here as revolutionary. The move has been hailed in the U.S. press in many places, because it breaks completely and irrevocably with past American tradition of non-entanglement in European. It puts the U.S. in the middle of world politics, where its wealth and power require it to be, and fills a vacuum in world leadership. The acceptance by this country of the United Nations was a big move in that direction, but no more than a move; it was more in the way of being an escape from entanglement, a means of working through an organization which it was hoped would make direct alliances unnecessary.

There is wide-spread press and public approval of the proposal. As seen here, if it becomes a treaty, remove the fear of German military revival said by Moscow to be the main motive for its security policy, will make possible a closer association between Britain and France by allaying French fears and lessening Communist influence in that country and finally will permanently the traditional British policy of a power balance. "It is the spirit of the New York Times and in keeping with the United Nations charter" and therefore will strengthen the world organization.

THE FIRST OF THESE hopeful results is rated in Washington as of prime importance not because America has naively accepted Moscow's claim as to the German danger, but because Moscow will no longer be able to use that as an excuse for its "security imperialism." Those who consider Russia as an expansionist march feel their opinion has already been confirmed by this move.

One is that Russia's actions since early in January have been taken despite full knowledge of the American proposal which was discussed with Stalin at Moscow and the text circulated to the interested nations at that time.

The other is that Stalin's order of the day immediately following Byrnes' announcement looks very much like an effort to shift from a no longer tenable excuse to the old generalization that reactionary forces within the democracies are a danger to Russia.

THE PROPOSAL CAME as a surprise here. Not even the combined chiefs of staff knew about it in advance. That something of the kind

The Bulletin's SPORTS SHOW by Hal Dean

J. R. (BOB) EDWARDS was more than a little pleased over winning top honors in the Edmonton Light Horse Show on Thursday with Jandam, two-year-old son of Amsterdam and Jane Kay, awarded the championship ribbon for being the best made in the show.

"I feel pretty good about that," admitted Bob last night. "It's the first time I've won the championship with a colt and the fact that I raised Jandam myself makes it still better."

Jandam will be going to the races this year and is being handled by Trainer Fred Jones, who also has three more Edwards horses in tow—Amsterdam and Mr. Amster, both three-year-olds and Shasta King, Bob Edwards' yearling. He is secretary-treasurer of The Edmonton District Thoroughbred Society.

Forty-five turned out for Thursday night's grid drill at Clarke Stadium and following exercises, light scrimmages, practice in pass receiving and a session of touch rugby was the program directed by Coaches Steve Olander and Paul Kirk.

Del Pettinier, former Regina player, was out last night. Del played with the EAC Juniors here during the season of 1942, prior to going into the service and he also had considerable experience with Regina Rough Riders. Last year he played with Toronto senior Navy.

Keith Seawing is the ex-Saskatchewan Husky half-back who is now a regular attendant at practices. A further workout is planned for tonight, but there will be no further drills after that until Monday.

HARRY GROVES, right-winger for Junior Canadians, arrived back Edmonton on Thursday and Ron Matthews and Don Slater are due today. They had returned to Winnipeg for a visit following the conclusion of the western final series. Brandon is planning a still more serious bid in junior hockey than in the season just ended when the team from that city made it decidely tough for all top-flight clubs in the prairie provinces. The Wheat City club heads would have liked the Canadian trio mentioned for their 1944-45 but it was no dice, all three wanting to remain in Edmonton.

STAN MUSIAL is still leading the batting parade in the National league with an average of .403 and has scored 31 runs. His team-mate, Doerr, has batted in 28 runs. Hank Greenberg has punched out 11 doubles, while DiMaggio (Yankees), Williams of Boston and Chapman of Philadelphia are tied for home runs with five. The Brooklyn is leading both leagues in stolen bases with seven.

President Jack Sirachan, Hugh Baker, and Tom Green are representative of the Edmonton District Association, will be attending the Saturday meeting of the Alberta Football (soccer) Association in Calgary.

Opinions Divided On Soccer Split

TORONTO, May 10.—(CP)—Local soccer officials were divided in their reaction Thursday to a Winnipeg report that the Manitoba Football Association is considering formation of a Western Canada Association, separate from the Dominion Football Association. The MFA has withdrawn from the DFA.

"A split in the Dominion Football Association at the present time would be a hard blow for Canadian soccer," said Tom Holland, president of the DFA. He said the suggestion of an independent western body was a surprise to him. Alex McGregor, secretary of the Toronto District Association, thought such a move would be a good thing. He believed the country is too big to be run by one association.

The question likely will be settled at the annual meeting of the DFA called for early September.

Ortiz' Illness Postpones Fight

HOLLYWOOD, May 10.—(AP)—Tommy Farmer, manager of world heavyweight champion Manuel Ortiz, said last night that the bout with Canadian champion Kenny Lindsey of Vancouver had been set back from May 15 to May 25 because of Ortiz' illness.

Farmer said Ortiz had contracted a severe chest cold which has delayed his training. He added that the postponement had been approved by the Sportsmen's Association of the 35-round bout. Ortiz is recuperating on his El Centro ranch.

Cuts Fall Training Spring Football Workouts

Answer to Longer Season

By JACK MITCHELL
TORONTO, May 10.—(CP)—Nothing bodes better for football's future than the spring spade work of men in the game who want a longer and stronger autumn harvest—and are willing to start dying early.

One of the major weaknesses of the Canadian game always was the short playing season; another, the general scarcity of player-producing junior clubs. In its post-war plan, football aims at surmounting both.

With 50 little time between summer heat and the snows, more clubs than ever have decided spring training that will cut down the time needed in the fall is the answer to a longer season.

"It gets you off to a flying start," explained Teddie Morris, coach of the Dominion champion Toronto Argonauts. "Keeps the boys in shape, gets them working together and gives the coach an idea what material he'll have to work with."

The Argos will wind up two weeks of avoiding capers tonight and Toronto's other two senior clubs—Halifax Beach and Indians—will start shortly. Winnipeg Blue Bombers got underway May 6, while Ottawa Rough Riders start May 15.

When Coach Fred (Baldy) Baldwin moves from Guelph, Ont., to look over his new charges, the Argonauts will have a little different idea and will take early training on the opening end of the regular season by starting Aug. 1.

This spring marks the first try at early training by the Blue Bombers, whose unhappy experience with Argos last fall may have helped to convince Baldwin to do it. Coach Jack West having some 70 candidates to look over, he is anxious to get them in shape.

Maurice (Winnipeg Free Press) Smith reports the Bomber management has other plans to give the former North Dakota State mentor an insight into the Canadian game. These include bringing Montreal's reorganized club to Winnipeg around Labor Day for an exhibition game that would give West "a first-hand opportunity to see a Lew Hayman-coached team."

BESIDES PREPPING "the variety act," but emphasis on developing young talent in their early years. Coach Morris reports some 400 youngsters may come out of town, turned out to pick up pointers from such stars as Joe Krol, Royal Copeland and Steve Levant.

Another indication of the interest in developing hardy perennial came in Morris' recent announcement of a "junior big four" league to operate this fall between junior Argos and Hamilton Tigers, Toronto St. Michaels and Oshawa.

With the big four sponsoring game receipts for football in general through a longer season, the way may be opened for something sorely lacking in pre-war junior circles, an annual east-west junior grid clash with none of the pickering about "expenses, expenses, who's got the expense money?"

EAC Juniors Work Out Tonight

EAC Juniors baseball club will workout at the South Side Athletic Grounds tonight at 6:30. All players are asked to be on hand as this workout will be in preparation for an exhibition game with the EAC Juniors Sunday.

Cricket Season Opens Saturday

The 1946 cricket season get underway Saturday afternoon at 2:15 o'clock when the Edmonton squad tangles with Wanderers at the Golf links in the initial game of the City Cricket League. The Legion-Radicals tilt scheduled for Saturday at the South Side Athletic Grounds has been postponed until Sunday and will be played at the Golf Links.

Avenue Bowlers Meet on Sunday

Alberta Avenue Men's Lawn Bowling Club will hold a general meeting in the Alberta Avenue community hall on Sunday at 2 o'clock. Skips are requested to represent complete lineups of bowlers at this meeting. Anyone wishing to join the club will be welcome.

Beat Chisox To Register 14th In Row

By STEVE ROBERTSON
NEW YORK, May 10.—(AP)—No matter how you look at it, Boston Red Sox are the current sensations of the baseball world. They won their 14th consecutive game Thursday by defeating Chicago White Sox 7-5 to increase their American League lead to 4 1/2 games over New York Yankees.

Bobby Doerr, fourth-inning two-run homer gave the Sox their margin of victory. It was the only home run of the day when Rigney who pitched three innings, after he replaced starter Ed Lopat.

Today the Sox open a weekend series with Yankees. Yesterday trounced 6-1 by St. Louis Browns.

The heavy-slugging Boston sockers are due to battle into the tightest defense in the game, but the New Yorkers hitting this year has been in comparison with that of the Red Sox and their own teams of former years. So the outcome is anybody's guess.

The game at Boston yesterday ended in rain driven by a gusty wind with White Sox almost threatening to score in the ninth-inning darkness.

Fresh hit a hard single into left by Dario Lodigiani on base. Ted Williams fell on the attempt and Dario made third. However, Jim Dugan got George Digh to ground swinging to end the game.

In their 14-game streak the Sox took every game played against the western clubs. Three from Detroit, two from Cleveland, three from St. Louis and two from Chicago. The other four included one over Yankees and three over the Athletics.

The American League record of consecutive triumphs is 19 made by the White Sox in 1906. The National League record is 28 by the Giants in 1916.

In the other American League games yesterday, Cleveland edged out Cleveland Indians 7-6 while Detroit Tigers scored a 12th win over Yankees over Washington Senators.

In the National League Cincinnati edged out Brooklyn Dodgers 8-7 as New York Giants trounced Pittsburgh Pirates 6-1 while Philadelphia Phillies edged Chicago Cubs 5-2 in 12 innings.

AT NEW YORK Nelson Poffo's fourth-inning homer and home runs by Charlie Keller's second-inning homer accounted for Yankees' lone tally.

Russ Derry, recently acquired from Yankees, led a 14-hit attack over four Cleveland pitchers as Philadelphia's Hank Edwards hit his third home run and Lou Bourque his first.

Eddie Mayo's single, driving in runs, gave Tigers their victory over the Senators and their fifth straight win. In Washington's half of the 12th Paul (Dizzy) Trout came in as the fifth Detroit hurler and retired the last two senators.

AT CINCINNATI Grady Hatton broke a 3-3 tie with Dodgers when he walked a two-run homer for Redie, who picked up two more runs in the sixth and one in the seventh. Pee Wee Reese put Dodgers back into game by belting a three-run circuit smash. They added another in the eighth and tied the potential tying run thrown out at the plate.

Big Jim Wallace, Indianapolis rookie, held the Cubs hitless at Chicago in eight of 12 innings against Braves. Pennuto Lowry led off in the fourth with his second home run of the season and Andy Patko drove Eddie Walker home with the second run. Johnny Hopp and Tommy Holmes engineered a double steal in the 12th and then, with the bases loaded, Stu Hofferling lined a single to drive in two more runs.

Johnny Mize and Jack Graham belted home runs at Pittsburgh to help Bill Voiselle record his second victory of the season for Giants. Mize scored his fifth circuit clout in the third and Graham slapped a two-run four-bagger in the fifth.

No NHL Franchise Until Arena Built

LOS ANGELES, May 10.—(AP)—President Mervyn (Red) Dutton of the National Hockey League, here on an inspection tour, said Thursday that "it's doubtful if anybody in Los Angeles will be granted a franchise until actual erection of an arena is started."

The league's board of governors has received applications from seven clubs and a fourth is known to be interested. While all have announced plans for new stadiums, none has any assurance when construction can begin.

The smallest arena in the National League at present, Dutton observed, is at Montreal, where more than 10,000 fans can be accommodated. Biggest rink here now seats about 3,000.

"I doubt whether any local group would desire a franchise unless assured of an arena to meet the payroll of a major league club," Dutton said.

BOSTON, May 10.—(AP)—Hugh Poland, left-handed hitting catcher, last night was optioned to Seattle Rainiers of the Pacific coast league by Boston Braves.

Vern Stephens Tells Story Of Short Stay in Mexico

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK, May 10.—(AP)—Vern Stephens stretched out on a rubbering table for a workout on his right shoulder and told the full story of his Mexican baseball adventures, including a furtive 158-mile return dash to the border.

How and why the St. Louis Browns' shortstop hopped to the Mexican league and then jumped back to the Browns is a tale that should be set to rhumba music in a comic opera setting.

It started in March when Stephens was holding out for a $17,500 contract from St. Louis and ignoring an original offer of $12,000.

"Alfonso Pasquel called me at home," Stephens related, "and said he was one of the Pasquel brothers of the Mexican League and wanted to see me at San Antonio. I decided to go."

"THEY OFFERED ME $17,000," he finally agreed to pay me $25,000 in bonus and salary for a year. I signed a contract with George (Pasquel) in Mexico City after they put $5,000 in an American bank for me and $20,000 more in Mexico City."

Stephens was assigned to the Vera Cruz Blues and played two games but he wasn't happy about the surroundings.

"The Pasquels treated me fine," recalled Vern. "But they don't have any clubhouses and their parks are very poor. I just got to thinking about how many more years I had left in the big league and remembered that Commissioner

I more than welcome the opportunity of playing Dick Burton, the British Open Champion, which Elmer Ward has provided me by inviting the Englishman to this country for a special match, starting May 20th, which will be part of the $10,000 Goodall Round Robin Golf Championship at Winged Foot Golf Club, Mamaroneck, N. Y., to be played May 20th to June 2nd.

Elmer Ward is a very successful business man who has made a fortune in the fabric business and golf is his hobby. In fact, as I understand it, Ward was a New England amateur champion himself, but he is too busy now for anything except informal golf. This tournament, which he inaugurated in 1938 in Cincinnati, moved east the following year, is one way he indulges his hobby.

The Goodall round robin golf championship, which is nothing more than a battle royal of golf, was discontinued because of war conditions in 1941 after it was won by Paul Runyan. Ward had no idea of abandoning it forever and went to work re-creating it soon after V-J day. It is really a single adaptation of the Inverness round robin four-ball invitational championship, which will be held late in June this year and about which I will write more at a later date.

THE GOODALL brings together 15 of the outstanding professional golfers in an event in which no golfer is ever eliminated and in which every golfer meets every other golfer at least once. The victor is determined by a plus and minus system of points awarded for holes and subtracted for holes lost.

Ward has matched me against Burton in a manner that should even add zest to a tournament which as one of the stiffest competitive tests we've called upon to undergo during the season. On Wednesday, May 29th, the day before the actual Goodall tournament competition gets underway, Burton and I will play 18 holes of our 36-hole match. On Thursday we will complete the match, playing the second 18 as part of one of the threesomes which actually participating in the round robin championship.

DICK BURTON, who won his title in 1939 just prior to the start of the war, was a member of the British Ryder Cup team when I played over there in 1937 as a member of the United States Ryder Cup team. Burton met Sam Snead in the singles matches and Sam defeated him 5 and 4. In the doubles he teamed with Percy Allie to defeat Henry Picard and Johnny Revolta, a strong doubles combination, 2 and 1.

BURTON was in the British Army during the war and got very little opportunity to play golf. According to reports from the other side, plus his record in the early season tournaments, he has been playing very well and lost none of his skill while in the Army. He is a fine fellow and a good golfer.

AS I SAID before, I welcome the opportunity of playing Burton. He is the first English professional to come over here since before the war and the match, coming as it does so early in the season, should arouse considerable interest in golf for the rest of the year. I consider it an honor to be selected to represent my country in a match of this sort and you may rest assured

By Oscar Fraley Today's Sport Parade

NEW YORK, May 10.—(BUP)—The British are famed for winning the last fight, with a certain cocked hat exception, but at the moment they can't understand why they won't win the first one—Bruce Woodcock's American debut at Madison Square Garden on next Friday night.

Woodcock is the British Empire heavyweight champion who will go against Tim Murrillo, a fat boy from the Bronx. All Murrillo has to recommend him are two losses to light heavyweights of King Gus Lesnevich; a series of brawls with other nobodies in the back-biting trade; and a supposed desire but never realized set-to with Joe Louis.

STILL, Woodcock, winner of all his 23 fights—24 by knockout—is the underdog.

When word of this got to London, Woodcock's manager, Tom Hurst, had several indignant telephone calls from the city on the Thames. What the British public demanded, was the matter with Woodcock?

The answer is, to date, nothing. The real trouble lies with the rest of the British fighters who have appeared heretofore in the United States. They were even worse than the guys they had at Yorktown.

America's pugilistic public made those odds strictly on the premise that even Murrillo could be worse than the fainting fighters from Britain. On the whole they have shown more variation of the horizontal relaxation than the sleeping beauty mattress company.

THEY WERE, however, as light as a feather when you consider boxing boredom as Bombardeer Billy Wells, Faintin Phil Scott, Gypsy Daniels, Tommy Farr, Dan Mc Cordinkale and Jack Pettifer. The Bombardeer had only one weakness when he was exposed to the crude but hearty punches of his entertaining American cousins. Billy had a glass chin.

Scott hardly would have been a footnote in pugilism's record book if he hadn't been for the sheer exertions of another Englishman, the late Jimmy Johnston, Jimmy took a great fight and his halo hoo kept Scott up for the big purses.

SO PHIL won more than $75,000 sitting on his lights and yelling "foul." He had an aversion to the fact that he was a half-line. Johnston admitted it, too, once telling a lady who wanted to know when the fight game was on the square.

"Lady, legitimate business is a fight of speech," Phil Scott made more sitting down than your husband ever made standing up. But there must be a lot of Missourians around these parts because the boys insist—fearfully—that they have to be shown. The only known item is that Woodcock can do a great deal for British boxing by fighting against the fat boy from the Bronx.

So here comes another from the rock-ribbed class, a husky young fellow who looks good in the ring. But there must be a lot of Missourians around these parts because the boys insist—fearfully—that they have to be shown. Therefore, British boxing gets another black eye off the "Gypsy" performances when the truth leaked out.

East Scout Wins High Decoration

TORONTO, May 10.—(CP)—A 17-year-old boy from the Sault district who has been a hospital patient for the past four months was informed yesterday that the Governor-General, Viscount Alexander, has awarded to him the Cornwell trophy, highest award for heroism in Scout-dom.

The award was for Lawrence Summers' long battle against injuries that virtually crippled him when he was two years old.

DESPITE HIS HANDICAP he became a patrol leader, a King Scout, won the gold all-round cord, the bushman's thong and 26 proficiency badges.

"He could walk only with difficulty when not aided by crutches, yet seldom missed a winter or summer hike or an overnight camping trip or any of our exercises," explained A. B. Martin of Richard's Landing, "even in the winter, when the boys went out on snowshoes, Lawrence was with them."

THE ENGLISH word guest stems from hostis, a Latin word meaning enemy.

Dixie Handicap Becomes Secondary

By SID FEDER

BALTIMORE, May 10.—(AP)—It's an old story that money talks, so today's $30,000 Dixie Handicap, featuring the year's two hottest handicap horses—Armed and Sty-mie—got no better than co-billing around Pimlico Thursday with the final pre-race flings for candidates in Saturday's $100,000 Preakness.

While the Preakness field rested at 11 more or less definite starters after a Toronto campaigner, Windfields, was officially declared out, eight older horses were entered to shoot for the $25,000 winner's share in today's 42nd running of the traditional Dixie 1 3/4 mile.

Assault, the Kentucky Derby winner, and Hampden, third in the run for the roses, put on the most ambitious show in their Preakness prep. Assault breezed an easy mile in 1:45 and galloped out an extra eighth in 1:58, while Hampden went a handy mile in 1:44 4/5.

Prairie Seeding Makes Progress

WINNIPEG, May 10.—With but few exceptions seeding has progressed rapidly throughout the prairie provinces during the past week. Spring operations are further advanced in eastern and southern sections of Manitoba and Saskatchewan, but good progress is being made elsewhere with only northern Manitoba reporting some delay due to snow and rain over the weekend.

High winds in Saskatchewan and Alberta have caused some soil drifting damage, and in moisture deficiency areas have dried out the top soil, tending to create uneven germination. Some farmers in these sections are withholding seeding operations waiting for rain, according to the weekly crop report of the department of agriculture of the Canadian National Railways.

COLD, WINDY. Dry weather prevailed over the entire Calgary territory with only light rain around Owen. Seeding of wheat is now 20 per cent to 80 per cent completed with early rains already above ground. Rains would be beneficial in assuring even germination. A slight increase in wheat acreage is anticipated with no change in coarse grains. Practically all subdivisions report some soil drifting damage.

Weather has been cool with high winds, light rains and snowflurries in the Edmonton territory. Moisture conditions are still satisfactory for germination with top soil dried out considerably due to winds. Wheat seeding is 30 per cent to 50 per cent completed and a start has been made in coarse grains. Many districts report a 10 per cent to 15 per cent increase in wheat acreage with a decrease for coarse grains.

INCREASED INTEREST has been shown in this area in the production of alfalfa and clover. New farm machinery and repair shops are scarce. In general the season is about two weeks earlier than last year. Rain and warm weather would be of material benefit. Wheat seeding is well advanced in all areas west and north of McLennan in the Peace River territory, being about 60 per cent completed. A good start has been made with coarse grains and moisture conditions are favorable for germination at the present time. Between McLennan and Edmonton seeding is now progressing rapidly, wheat being 30 per cent completed and coarse grains 10 per cent. Both surface and subsoil conditions are good.

Cattle Population Bigger in Canada

OTTAWA, May 10.—(CP)—Agriculture Minister Gardiner yesterday told the common that although exports of live cattle to United States had increased, the number of cattle on farms in Canada also had risen.

Speaking during study of agriculture estimates and replying to John Hackett (PC—Stansfeld), Mr. Gardiner said the export of live cattle was not as serious as might be suggested.

HE GAVE THESE FIGURES to show how exports to the United States compared with the number of cattle on farms:

	Exports	Cattle on farms
1941	13,719	3,623,900
1942	27,329	3,680,500
1943	37,329	3,784,700
1944	36,515	3,929,600
1945	47,304	3,908,200

Mark Senn (PC—Haldimand) asked why there was no corresponding increase in milk production. Mr. Gardiner said figures obtained by his department showed there had been an increase in milk production.

Milk production in 1940 was 15,999,000,000 pounds; in 1942, 17,488,000,000; in 1944, 17,604,000,000, and in 1945, 17,618,000,000.

Gardiner Knocks Packers' Statement

OTTAWA, May 10.—(CP)—Agriculture Minister Gardiner said last night in a statement the Domestic Packing and Processors Association of Canada "should get their facts before commenting upon statements made if they are correctly quoted."

MR. GARDINER was commenting on a statement issued by the association in Toronto stating that a speech by the minister in the Commons Monday outlined "many unfair inferences" and was "obviously untrue."

The minister's statement follows: The Domestic Packers and Processors Association of Canada should get their facts before commenting upon statements made if they are correctly quoted.

The fact is that press reports stated that the president of Canada Packers had indicated that over period the big packers had lost $10 per head on cattle. He was quoted as saying:

"Our buyers have been instructed to buy live cattle only at prices equivalent to retail prices."

MY STATEMENT was to the effect that such an announcement going out would induce farmers to hold cattle off the market and that in my opinion such statements should not be made by any person or group while price control was in force.

I will maintain that neither I nor any other is able to determine what an animal is worth in Toronto alive without knowing all the facts. It could be bought by one buyer at a higher price than another could pay without making it necessary to sell above the retail ceiling.

Canada Is Urged To "Open Doors"

WASHINGTON, May 10.—(CP)—

Canada, United States and other countries should open their doors to the 1,400,000 displaced persons of Europe—that enormous stockpile of human misery—F. H. LaGuardia, director-general of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration, suggested yesterday.

Reporting to the resumed fourth session of the administration council of 48 countries which opened in Atlantic City last March 15 and recessed pending action by the administration on the world food crisis, Mr. LaGuardia said that results of his efforts to get more allocations of the available world food supply to relieve the hungry millions in Europe and China were "extremely disappointing."

HE RECOMMENDED the Truman administration call upon all member powers to:

1. Establish for the duration of the present food crisis one broad international agency with adequate powers to make and implement allocations on an equitable basis of grain and all other basic foods in short supply.

2. Provide that for the duration of the present food crisis all purchases of grain and other basic foods in short supply be coordinated in a manner which will preclude competitive buying and competitive selling.

Radioactive Ore Is Found in B.C.

NELSON, B.C., May 10.—(CP)—

A. J. Curle of Kaslo, B.C., reported yesterday that he had obtained proof that ore he discovered in the Siccan country 12 years ago is uraniumite (pitchblende), ore of radium.

Radiographs taken from exposures of the ore provided the proof that the ore is uraniumite, he said. It was not until it became known that uranium was being used in atomic bombs that Mr. Curle, owner of several mines in the Siccan district, decided to take steps to prove his belief that the ore was pitchblende.

HE SAID THE DEPOSIT was "promising" but other than that he would give no information as to the extent of his find or its location.

Mr. Curle first exposed rocks from the deposit to a photographic plate two months ago. Satisfied that the ore was radio active, he engaged an expert photographer, who exposed the ore for seven days on sensitive film.

The Siccan country is north of Nelson.

Alter Regulations Sale of Preserves

OTTAWA, May 10.—(CP)—The prices board last night announced regulations controlling sale of certain processed and preserved berries and fruits in British Columbia will be revoked, effective today.

The move follows recent suspension of price ceilings on these products. Previously, anyone in British Columbia processing and preserving strawberries, raspberries, loganberries, black currants or apricots was required to sell such products as directed by the fruits administrator.

The agricultural food board announced it no longer would pay per pound subsidies to producers of berries used for jam making and canning.

THE BOARD SAID subsidies which have been paid to producers of strawberries, raspberries, boysenberries, gooseberries and currants when used for jam making and raspberries for canning purposes will not be paid for the 1946 crop.

Instead, the board said, the prices board will increase ceiling prices on jam and canned raspberries of the 1946 crop by an amount equivalent to the grower's subsidy applicable in 1945.

Rectify Mistake Of 731 Years Ago

LONDON, May 10.—(Reuters)—

The error of a medieval scribe 731 years ago was rectified in the house of lords yesterday in a decision to delete the "b" from the word "charia." Henceforth the document signed by King John as the first step toward parliamentary rights in England will be officially referred to as "magna carta."

Decision to alter the word in the bill followed an explanation by the lord chancellor, Lord Jowitt, that the men who forced King John's signature at the point of the sword at Runnymede referred to the document as "carta."

The ROAD AHEAD

By HARPER PROWSE, M.L.A.

EVER since it was announced that the Canadian troops scheduled to fight in Japan under American command would be equipped with American uniforms, and equipment, there have been howls of protest. Since plans for our permanent forces have been announced the controversy has flared up again. The troops who will be expected to do the fighting, if any; the taxpayers who will foot the bills; and the citizens who will be most interested in the outcome of any future battles, are all, naturally, interested in this question.

The Inquiring Reporter

THE QUESTION
What do you think of the Alberta crop prospects for this season?

THE ANSWERS
WILLIAM HOLDFORD, farmer: So far the prospects are good. Although there has been some cold weather I don't think it will damage the crops to any appreciable extent.

SAM GORDON, traveller: I have covered a good deal of territory lately and have seen crops in various sections of Northern Alberta and I think the outlook is good. Barring unforeseen setbacks, there should be a good crop.

HAROLD WILLIAMSON, trucker: Reports I have received from farmers in several parts of the Edmonton district indicate the crops will be large and of good quality.

Botanical Work May Be Expanded

Hopes that facilities at the Dominion botanical laboratories here would eventually be expanded were expressed on Friday by Dr. J. H. Craigie, Dominion botanist. Dr. Craigie, who is making a tour of inspection of such plants across the Dominion. The laboratory here engaged largely in plant pathological work under the direction of Dr. G. B. Sanford, is cramped for space, but post-war plans do not yet include arrangements for enlargement of such premises.

Dr. Craigie will be staying in Edmonton for about a day and a half he says, and will continue his trip westward to visit laboratories at Summerland, Victoria, Saanichton and other British Columbia stations. He is a guest at the Macdonald hotel.

• After showing his congregation his recently purchased permit and a bottle of Canadian whisky, which he had bought the day Mr. Cox demonstrated the similarity in the action of the whisky, rubbing alcohol and carnic acid on eggs broken into a small glass of each. He climaxed his demonstration by burning his new permit, by putting a "poison" label on the whiskey bottle before throwing it.

"I wish I could burn 500,000 liquor licenses just like this," he said.

He chose the New Testament parable of the tares as the text for his sermon on the evils of the liquor trade and urged that young people everywhere should be taught the dangerous effects of the "narcotic poison which was whisky."

He referred to recent profit made by the Alberta Liquor Control Board as an illustration of the fact that one of the reasons the "evil trade" flourished was because some men made money from it—and the other reason was that people didn't know how to have a good time.

Declares Liquor "Greatest Enemy"

Dramatic emphasis was placed on his contention that the liquor traffic was the "greatest enemy" faced by the city of Edmonton by the Rev. J. R. Cox, addressing a meeting of more than 125 persons in Wesley United church Thursday evening.

Say Attempt Made Buck Farm Union

There appears to be an attempt on the part of some people to prevent the Alberta Farmers' Union putting membership through passage of a grant to cover the cost of some memberships in the Edmonton municipality. R. J. Boutilier, secretary of the Alberta Farmers' Union, stated Thursday.

The resolution as received by Mr. Boutilier Thursday, follows: "It is felt that while the council is wholeheartedly behind the farmers' union and will promote total membership by paying a membership fee of $4 for every bona fide farmer in the municipal district in 1947, it is felt that such a step is not warranted for the current year due to the fact that 65 per cent of the farmers in this district have already paid their dues for 1946. The payment of dues is to include the form of a grant under Section 234 of the Municipal Districts Act. The resolution was passed unanimously, according to Mr. Boutilier's information.

The secretary said he had received information from Arnold Atkin, president of Division 4 AFU, which takes in Lamont, Eagle, Vegreville, Wausau and Two Hills, denying that Lamont had presented the granting of payment by the municipal council of membership fees.

Mr. Atkin told Mr. Boutilier that there was "some dissension" among some non-farmers and those who are not eligible members of the union, and that "this could be expected as it looks as though the farmers will be 100 per cent organized through this collection of dues."

Mr. Boutilier declared Thursday that the Lamont council had "every right to make the payment under Section 234, and that this was the opinion of the attorney-general's department."

Tourist Parley Opening May 16

Regulations governing the operation of tourist camps in Alberta will be one of the most important features of the discussions expected to take place at the Alberta tourist convention called for May 16, 17 and 18 in the Memorial Hotel, according to Dan E. Campbell, provincial director of tourist publicity on Thursday morning.

REGULATIONS were drafted originally in December, by a committee selected from a conference of tourist officials. The committee's report, embodying proposed regulations is being considered by the attorney-general's department and by the department of trade and industry, but before the new regulations become effective they will be submitted to those most deeply interested in tourist traffic for discussion and for possible suggestions as to alterations, Mr. Campbell said.

Police to Drive On Bike Riders

City police are opening a drive to eliminate breaches of city by-laws regarding bicycles in the city, it was learned Friday. The drive follows a number of accidents involving juveniles riding bicycles in the city.

A large number of both girls and boys are riding bicycles on sidewalks, without proper lights and reflectors after dark and they are also riding "double" on the cycles.

JUDGE C. F. WILLIS of the juvenile court said Friday that arrangements are being made to have young offenders against the by-laws appear in juvenile court and that parents of second offenders will be required to attend the court with a possibility of a $20 maximum fine being levied.

"Parents whose children are riding the streets on bicycles must take the responsibility of instructing their boy or girl as to the peril in not obeying the by-law pertaining to riding their cycles in an improper manner," Judge Willis said, adding that this action "must be taken seriously, as it is a great danger of a large number of children being hurt or maimed because of neglect on the part of the parents as well as the children."

Damages to YMCA Heavy After War

"Since the iron curtain of war has been lifted, word has been received that 80 YMCA's in various parts of the world have been entirely destroyed or badly damaged during the war. Many others, which were occupied by enemy forces, are in need of repair and furnishings."

This statement was made by Herbert Fowler, World Service Secretary of the YMCA International Committee, when he addressed a meeting of 'Y' men and their friends at the Edmonton YMCA Thursday evening.

MR. FOWLER OUTLINED the plan of North American 'Y's' to assist these war-torn countries by raising a sum of $8,000,000 by means of a World Youth Campaign for Restoration and Advance.

The campaign will be for the rehabilitation of destroyed and damaged buildings, for training of 'Y' secretaries and for urgent needs created by the war in both Canada and the United States.

"During the war," Mr. Fowler said, "Y world service work was cut down in 13 countries. Since the war, 13 additional countries have been served. This has meant sending out 15 additional secretaries this year."
